

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: December 5, 2024

RIMA Atlanta LLC of Atlanta Georgia enters partnership with IN-LOG | GÄMMERLER !

RIMA Atlanta strengthens its position as a one-stop-shop for signature handling & stacking behind press and bindery lines. After the acquisition of STI in November 2024, this new partnership with IN-LOG | GÄMMERLER makes RIMA Atlanta a one-stop-shop for all stacking needs behind press and bindery lines. The partnership also extends to Europe where IN-LOG | GÄMMERLER will become a solution partner for RIMA equipment.

Atlanta, GA — RIMA, a national leader for bindery and press stacking equipment welcomes MERTEN, the owner of IN-LOG | GÄMMERLER, as a new shareholder and new Post Press partner at RIMA Atlanta.

With this change, RIMA Atlanta becomes the exclusive dealer for IN-LOG | GÄMMERLER post press solutions. The priority is to provide all web and bindery customers with a one-stop-shop platform for their post press & post bindery needs, covering brands such as RIMA, STI, GÄMMERLER, IN-LOG or even Rota-Schneider. This includes detailed requirements definition, solution design, new & rebuilt equipment, relocations & upgrades, service & support.

IN-LOG | GÄMMERLER merged and streamlined their product lines and became one team in 2021. Today IN-LOG | GÄMMERLER is a leading supplier of post press equipment, providing intelligent and reliable solutions for commercial, book and newspaper printing. Solutions range from single machines to complete systems and include new and rebuilt equipment, upgrades, machine relocations and reconfigurations. With the largest installed machine base in the world and a clear commitment to the printing industry, IN-LOG | GÄMMERLER is an excellent choice for post press projects.

MERTEN-Group, the owner of IN-LOG | GÄMMERLER is a stable, family-owned company that is active in three business areas: precision engineering, mechanical engineering and post press. The MERTEN Group has been successful in the market for more than 100 years and has always been managed by its owners.

RIMA is one of the oldest and most respected manufacturers and solution providers of stacking equipment in North America. RIMA is committed to efficiently adapting to the changing needs of the web/bindery industry and providing efficient solutions including new equipment as well as rebuilds. The partnership with IN-LOG | GÄMMERLER demonstrates RIMA's commitment to the graphic arts industry. The goal is to provide a stable platform for Post Press & Post Binders solutions in a consolidating market.

ABOUT RIMA Atlanta – RIMA was founded in 1976 by Horst Steinhart and sold its first machine that same year. RIMA quickly became the global standard for bindery stackers behind saddle stitchers, perfect binders, inserting and packaging machines. With more than 7,000 bindery stackers and more than 3,000 press stackers RIMA has by far the largest installed base worldwide. Today RIMA is a leading supplier of bindery stackers – from a simple entry level model up to high-speed / high-volume machines. Besides that, RIMA also offers highly efficient stacking solutions for single copies and shingle stream operations in other converting operations including corrugated, paper bags, envelopes, mailing, etc.
